

Guidelines for Manuscript Submission

Instructions for the authors

The magazine DOCENCIA UNIVERSITARIA published research articles developed around subjects concerning training of university faculty and their pedagogical duties. Likewise, it accepts proposals for discussion that expand on fundamental problems facing the practice of teaching at the college or university level.

Papers submitted for publication must be unpublished texts and submitted exclusively to the publication in the Docencia Universitaria review. The Editorial Board will forward the received manuscripts to peer reviewers and will base its decision to publish on the opinions issued by the peer reviewers.

The journal's Management is not committed to the views of the authors whose manuscripts are published.

Typologies

Submissions must correspond to one of the following typologies:

- 1) Article of scientific and technological research. Document that presents, in a detailed manner, the original results of finished research projects. The structure generally used contains four important sections: introduction, methodology, results, and conclusions.
- 2) Analytic article. Document that presents research results from an analytical, interpretative, or critical perspective on a specific topic using original sources.
- 3) Review article. Document resulting from a completed investigation that analyzes, systematizes, and integrates the results of published or unpublished research, on a field of science or technology, in order to account for the progress and development of trends. It is characterized by a careful literature review of at least 50 references.

4) Reflective non-research article.

Document that presents the analysis of a problem of higher education, from a reflective perspective, argued from original sources.
